My experience with working with Eric Gold of Sheldon Gold Realty, Inc. was terrific! Eric was always very helpful and willing to go the extra mile to help me find what I was looking for. When I first found Eric, I had no idea where the best place to put my office was or even the parameters in which I wanted to search for an office in. Eric took the time to let me know what he thought would be best, and helped me find the office that would be a great fit for my practice. Eric was very timely in getting back to me, meeting with me, and getting me the necessary things in order to find the space.

Being a new business owner, I had no idea what the commercial real estate world was all about, all the things and paperwork required and the bargaining necessary. Eric was very patient with me as I was trying to get all of the paperwork together and sent in, as well as, took the time to educate me about different important aspects of spaces and landlords in the commercial real estate field.

Once I found the space that I liked, Eric definitely went to bat for me to get the space that I wanted and helped me negotiate with the management company overseeing the property. Even when I told him that I was afraid to bargain too much so I would not lose the place, he convinced me to trust him and he kept going to bat for me until we got a really great deal on the space.

Once I was in the space, Eric took the time to call me and follow up with how the space was going. He just called to see if there were any problems with the space or if he could even help me with anything else. I really appreciated him taking the time to even call and follow up!

Eric Gold is someone that I would recommend to anyone due to his professionalism, work ethic, experience and knowledge in the industry and I will most certainly use him again in the future if I should decide to move my practice/office in the future.

Sincerely,
